

TWENTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1843.

SENATE.

A communication from the State Department, in answer to a former resolution of the Senate, relative to such changes and modifications in commercial restrictions of other nations as had come to the knowledge of the Department, was laid upon the table, and ordered to be printed.

PETITIONS.

Mr. HUNTINGTON presented a petition from citizens of Connecticut, in reference to French spoliation.

Mr. FAIRFIELD a like petition from Maine. Mr. MILLER a petition from the President and Directors of the Bank of Washington, asking a renewal of charter.

Mr. STURGEON the petition of John Washington, asking for four months' pay which he never received, for services under General Har-mar in the northwest.

Mr. CRITTENDEN the petition of Geo. Harrison and others.

Mr. BREESE, on leave, introduced a bill for the relief of Pierre Menard and others.

REPORTS.

Mr. HUNTINGTON from the Committee on Commerce, made an adverse report in the case of Enoch Baldwin.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. WOODBRIDGE moved the printing of five hundred extra copies of a voluminous report printed by the other House, (Mr. Cost Johnson's) of which there was a deficiency.

Mr. KING asked if this resolution was in order, and the Chair replied that it must lie one day upon the table.

Mr. BREESE offered a resolution calling upon the Secretary of War for information relative to lead mines in Illinois and Wisconsin.

Mr. BENTON a resolution that the Naval Committee inquire into the expediency of establishing in Mississippi a manufactory of hemp for the use of the United States.

Mr. JARNEGAN'S resolution in reference to the Cherokee treaty was taken up and referred.

Mr. BARROW presented resolutions of the Louisiana Legislature of the following purport, to wit: for remounting the second regiment of dragoons; also, for refunding the "General Jackson fine;" also, for removing obstructions at the mouth of the Red River; also, for reducing the expense attending litigation in the United States courts.

The Senate, having despatched their business, adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. HOUSTON, of Alabama, by leave, introduced a bill to reduce and graduate the price of public lands in favor of settlers and cultivators.

Mr. STEWART, of Penn., brought forward a bill for the transfer of Government stock in the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company to the State of Maryland and the cities of the District. Mr. S. moved its reference to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, (which would have facilitated its passage,) but

Mr. CAVE JOHNSON moved its reference to the Committee on Roads and Canals; which motion prevailed.

FLORIDA DELEGATE.

Mr. J. R. INGERSOLL presented a memorial from citizens of the Territory of Florida, declaring Mr. David Levy an alien, and therefore not entitled to his seat; he moved its reference to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. LEVY called for the reading of the memorial, which was perfectly respectful in its tone and language. Mr. L., however, declared the memorialists to be actuated by personal malignity.

Mr. INGERSOLL said the memorial had been handed to him by gentlemen from Florida, and he had too much respect for the right of petition to withhold it, especially upon a question of such importance.

Mr. A. V. BROWN said the question was a judicial one, and the House had, last session, acted upon it by retaining the member in his seat.

Mr. LEVY thought the question raised was entirely of a legal character, and that the Judiciary Committee should decide whether or not he was an alien.

Mr. DAVIS remarked that the Committee on Elections had no questions before them not partly judicial in their character. All the members on this committee were lawyers. The party to which the delegate from Florida belonged had six of the nine members on this committee—surely he ought to be willing to commit his interests to their hands.

Mr. HOUSTON, of Ala., spoke at some length against the memorial, and moved to lay it on the table, which motion prevailed. [A summary process of despatching a grave question.]

Mr. LEVY then offered a resolution to refer the question of his allegiance to the Judiciary Committee; but objections were made, and the resolution not received.

GENERAL TICKET MEMBERS.

The House took up this subject under the resolution of Mr. Davis, of Ky., for referring the question of the rights of all members to their seats without distinction. Even in this form, an effort was made by a portion of the Locofocos to shake off the subject, but the resolution of Mr. D. was adopted; ayes 148, noes 32.

PROTEST OF THE MINORITY.

Mr. BARNARD'S resolution upon the subject of amending the journal was the business next in order.

Mr. DROMGOOLE had moved not to receive it.

Mr. STEENROD, of Va., moved to lay this motion on the table.

Mr. BARNARD asked the Speaker what would be the effect of this motion.

The SPEAKER said, if it prevailed, it would prevent the reception of the resolution.

The motion to receive was then laid on the table by a party vote; ayes 116, noes 59.

PETITIONS.

The next business was to continue the call of States for petitions.

Mr. ADAMS had the floor, and the question was, whether a petition from citizens of New York, praying to be dissolved from all connexion with slavery, came within the rule of exclusion. The Speaker had decided the other day that it did, but having had time to reflect and consult the journal, he reversed this decision.

Mr. CAVE JOHNSON then raised the question of reception.

Mr. THOMPSON, of Miss., moved to lay this question on the table. This was done by yeas 97, to nays 80.

Mr. ADAMS presented a variety of other petitions, (one from the Mormons, praying Congress, by some legal enactment, to acknowledge the supremacy of Christ) which gave rise to questions of order, appeals, &c., and in the midst of this chaos,

The House adjourned.

SPECTACLES.—My attention has been called to an article in the public papers and circulated in handbills about this city, called Periscopic Spectacles, said to be constructed in accordance with the philosophy of nature, in the form of a Concave-Convex Ellipsoid. What is meant by the philosophy of nature may be hard to tell, but certainly they are at variance from the laws or principles of Optics, as certainly no Ellipsoid can converge the rays of light to a perfect focus. They are said not to be the French meniscus or Wollaston's periscopic (one and the same construction of glasses). The meniscus lens is a truly ground surface, concave on one side; the other side, possessing a greater degree of sphericity, consequently becomes a magnifying glass. This species of glass will converge the rays of light the same as a double convex lens. The application of this form of lenses in the shape of Spectacles, gives the eye a greater field of vision.

The celebrated Dr. Brewster, in speaking of these Spectacles says that they give decidedly more perfect visions than common spectacles, because they increase both the aberration of figure and of color; but they may be of use in a crowded city in warning us of the oblique approach of objects. Now, as spectacles are intended to assist nature, and the eye, the most perfect masterpiece of Divine Mechanism, (in its natural state,) every part has the very form and office which the laws of optics require for the most perfect vision of an object. Is it not preposterous to apply a piece of bent concave or convex glass without true form or figure to its assistance? On the contrary, is it not reasonable to conclude that their continued use would destroy the eye entirely? Spectacles are probably the most ancient of all optical instruments, and yet has undergone the least change of any. The subject has been well considered by Opticians throughout all Europe for ages, and the general conviction is that a truly ground concave or convex lens is the most suitable for assisting decaying or unnatural visions of the human eye. R. PATTEN.

The subscribers have for sale at their manufactory, on Pennsylvania avenue, south side, between 10th and 11th streets, a general assortment of the best of Spectacles, with truly ground glasses. Glasses of the best quality fitted to old frames, &c. Also, Surveyor's Compasses, Levels, and Drawing Instruments, of the best quality. R. PATTEN & SON. * Instruments made to order, and warranted. dec 9—1m

He could speak from personal knowledge of its beneficial effects in cases of severe cold, coughs, &c., but, lest he may be deemed an interested witness, he adduces the following, among numerous other testimonies, to the same import: Hermitage, April 17, 1843.

I have the pleasure to acknowledge your kind favor of the 1st ultimo, by the hand of my friend, Mr. J. Armstrong, and with it your most esteemed present, a package of your Hoarhound Candy, for which I receive my sincere thanks. I can only add, that may thousands receive from its use as much benefit as I have done, then will its inventor go down to posterity as one of its benefactors.

I am gentlemen, very respectfully, Your friend and obdt servt, ANDREW JACKSON.

Messrs. Pease & Sons.

Washington, April 6, 1843.

Your obdt servt, WM. C. BOUCK.

Messrs. Pease & Sons.

I am yours, truly, ROBT. H. MORRIS.

I have not, I am happy to inform you, as yet had occasion to use it, but will do so when necessary, with a confidence in its efficacy which is well warranted by the experience of others.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant, M. VAN BUREN.
